THE SUIT UPGRADE

Siddarth Sivaprakash is a Dubai-based advertising professional who has to schmooze with his clients regularly. Ascots and Chapels had just the right outfit in mind for when he steps out at the Dubai World Cup this month.

We didn't want to go down the classic suit route with Siddarth, whose personal style is more rock 'n' roll than power suit-wearing executive. So we decided to pair an electric blue single-button jacket with peak lapels with cream trousers. A pale pink shirt and minimal accessories completed the outfit. The slim-cut jacket is versatile enough to be worn with trousers of the same colour, or a pair of jeans and brogues.

▲ The use of contrast buttons and buttonhole stitching gives the jacket a less formal look.

▲ Since it's the World Cup, we chose a polka-dot silk knit bow tie for a dapper finish.

◀ A floral print lining on the pocket flaps is subtle yet quirky.
